No Easing of Policy, South Africans Told

By LYNN HEINZERLING

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African government, fully alert to the magnitude of its race problem, announced today it is embarking on a large scale program to bring in white immigrants.

Interior Minister J. F. Naude told Parliament the government now considers immigration "of the utmost importance for the nation."

The nationalist government has been under fire for years from the opposition for failing to promote immigration and improve the balance of three million whites against 10 million blacks.

Naude denied long standing allegations that the nationalists had impeded immigration by English-speaking people because of the fear they would vote against the nationalist government, run by men of Dutch descent.

A spokesman for the opposition to the government of the wounded Prime Minister, Hendrik P. Verwoerd, called for an inquiry into the basic causes of African discontent.

de Villiers Graaff, United party leader, said he and his followers intend to bring pressure on

Shows No Respect for Proceedings of Court

Bullet Wounds Fatal to Mrs. J. C. Bowden

Mrs. J. C. Bowden, 47, critically wounded by her son last Saturday, died today in a local hospital.

Mrs. Bowden was shot three times in the stomach and chest when her son apparently went berserk following an argument with his father. Three shots were fired at Mr. Bowden, who was not seriously hurt although one of the bullets nicked his ear.

The son, Jerry Bowden, 27, is undergoing a mental examination at Arkansas State Hospital where he was taken following the Saturday morning shooting.

Prosecuting Attorney Royce Weisenberger said today that the findings of doctors at the State Hospital will determine the charge against the younger Bowden. He was taken to the hospital at the request of his father and a family physician. If he is found to be mentally sound, a murder charge will be filed against him, the Prosecutor said.

Court procedure is often interrupted by illness of a witness, an ailing attorney or by numerous legal technicalities. But a "court-stopper" slipped into the proceedings of the Hempstead Circuit Court yesterday, the likes of which is new to veteran court attendants in this area. This time it was the proverbial Stork!

Juror Perry Henley and 11 other jurors were engaged in hearing a criminal case. A message was handed to Judge Lyle Brown marked "urgent." Juror Henley's wife was being rushed to the hospital and the husband's presence was urgently needed. Court was recessed at 11:45 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Juror Henley returned to court ahead of time, proudly passing out cigars to his fellow jurors and court attendants. His fourth son had arrived and mother and child were doing nicely.

Judge Brown recalled that he had seen trials interrupted by the death of an attorney, a juror suffering a heart attack, a defendant fainting, a power failure during a night session — but never before by the Stork.

The trial was completed late in the afternoon and the defendant, Willie Merchell of Texarkana was found guilty of possessing an illicit still.

Tickets Here to Millwood Breakfast

Tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office for the annual Millwood Breakfast to be held next Tuesday morning, April 19, in Shreveport. Time set for the breakfast is 7:30 and it will be held in the Lake Room of the Captain Shreve Hotel.

Red River Valley Association and Southwest Water District officials are anticipating one of the largest crowds ever for this breakfast. "This is the year that can mean the start of this long overdue project if we will continue to show the interest that we have shown in the past," said Roy Mathias, executive director of the Red River Valley Assn.

Senator John McClellan, Senator Ellender, Congressman Harris and representatives of the Corps of Engineers will be in attendance at the breakfast. Sen. McClellan will be the principal speaker at the noon luncheon.

Groups from Ashdown, Texarkana, Magnolia, Lewisville and Prescott will join the Hope area delegation at this early morning meeting. A motorcade with police escort is planned from Hope. Time of departure will be 6 a.m. from the Chamber of Commerce Office.

First Concrete at Greers Ferry

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The first concrete was poured at the Greers Ferry Dam on Little Red River near here yesterday.

Army Engineers and contractor officials tossed in coins for good luck.

The material is mixed at a big concrete-manufacturing plant on the eastern bluff of the river. A cable and bucket arrangement is used to deliver the concrete to workmen on the river bed.

Hypnotist to Appear Here April 14

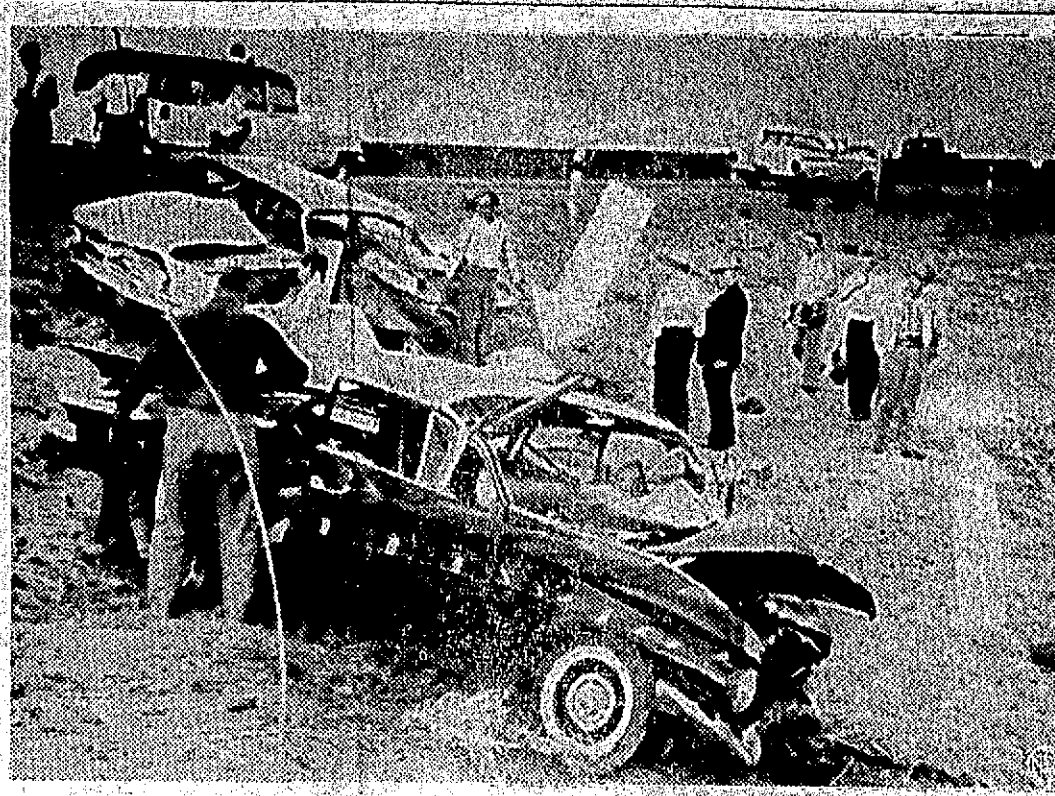

The big stage show, Hypnotrama, will open here April 14th at 8 p.m. at the National Guard Armory. Citizens of Hope will have their first opportunity to see the star of the show on that day at 4 p.m. when he appears in person on Main Street driving a car through busy traffic while blindfolded.

This remarkable demonstration is free and will be held under the supervision of the local police department. Those who watch the blindfolded hypnotist, as he maneuvers a new 1960 Ford, furnished by the Hope Auto Co. will have a glimpse of the amazing ability of this nationally famous entertainer who will headline the two hour show sponsored by the Hope National Guard unit for the benefit of public facility improvement in the armory.

The old adage "seeing is believing" will be full of meaning for the audience which attends this program. The show deals with all phases of hypnosis and reaches a thrilling climax in a demonstration of "catalepsy."

Two chairs are placed seat to seat about five feet apart. A subject is put into the deep state of somnambulism, his body becomes rigid and then, supported on the chairs by his heels and neck only in a horizontal position, he feels no strain when others stand on his abdomen.

There are laughs, thrills and excitement for the whole family in this fast and clean show and indications are for a full house. Tickets are available from members of the Hope Guard unit or they may be purchased at the door one hour before curtain time. Proceeds from the show will be used for the benefit of public facility improvement at the Armory.

Junior High Holds Library Program

The highlight of National Library Week at Hope Junior High School was the presentation of a special program by the Junior High Library Club. On Wednesday, April 6 the students saw a play entitled "A Day At Court," written and directed by Mrs. B. N. Holt, Library Club sponsor.

The play showed the wrong way books are sometimes treated, and the characters were: Judge Brown, Bill Reinhardt, Bailiff, Truett King, Prosecuting Attorney, Mary Beth Allen, Dirty Dan, Susan Cook, Messy Mary, Becky Waller, Folding Jim, Linda Cobb, Dirty Messy, Verna Gail Harmon and Witnesses, Donna Taylor, Jackie Fielding, Martha Hinkle and Frances Thies.

The second half of the program was devoted to dramatization of 17 characters found in books in the library. Bill Land served as narrator and the students with characters they portrayed were:

Suzi Waller as Brave Nurse from the book of the same name by Ellsworth Newcomb; Phala Brown as Mickey Mantle of the Yankees by Gene Schoor; Susan Erwin played Betsy Ross from her biography by Anne Weil; Ona Easterling was Gretel from the book, "Hans Brinker," by Mary Dodge.

Joy Highfill as Madame Curie from "The Radiant Woman" by Marie Curie; Gayle Medders portrayed Helen Keller in "The Story of My Life," an autobiography; Gloria Jarvis was Marian from "Calico Captive" by George L. Speare; Brenda Sanders was seen as Alice from "Alice in Wonderland" by Lewis Carroll.

Reva Cox played Sad Girl from "Nabaho Sister" by Evelyn Lampman; Carol Ann Taylor was Amos Fortune from "Amos Fortune Free Man" by Elizabeth Yates; Sandra Taylor played the title role from "Becky" Landers, Frontier Warrior by Constance Skinner; Anne Randolph was Ramona from the book of the same name by Helen Hunt Jackson.

Cookie Jones portrayed Uncle Tom from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by Harriet Beecher Stowe; Diane Ellis was Heidi from the book of the same name by Johanna Spyri; Linda Allen had the title role from "Adam of the Road" by Elizabeth Janet Gray; Sharon Evans was Mary Leno in "The Secret Garden" by Francis Burnett and Mary Anderson played Annie Oakley from the book of the same name by Edmund Collier.

Reports Farmers Planting Fast

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The federal-state Crop Reporting Service said today Arkansas farmers made splendid gains in seed bed preparations during the past week.

Agricultural statistician Mike McPeck said the main spring planting season should be in full swing within the next two weeks.

The report said top soil is dry in most counties of west Arkansas, causing the growth of small grains and pastures to be retarded. But the current dry weather was termed favorable for east Arkansas farmers.

Seed beds are being planted on hundreds of thousands of acres for cotton, soybeans and rice in east Arkansas.

Newly elected officers of Hope Lions Club are: President Jim James, First Vice Pres. James Morrow, Second Vice Pres. Harry Phillips, Third Vice Pres. Mitchell LaGrone, Sec. and Treas. Lloyd Leverett, Tail Twisters Bill Rounton and W. H. Gunter Jr., Lion Tamer Don Simpson and the Board of Directors: Jimmy Griffin, Harold Brents, Percy Williams and Hubert Thrush. These officers will assume their duties July 1st.

Yesterday's meeting of the club was devoted solely to the election. Guests of the club were Luther Desha, R. W. Honea and Lion Bill Deloney of Nashville. Bill Gunter was taken into the club as a new member.

Local citizens are reminded of the Club's annual broom sale to be held Tuesday night, April 19, beginning at 6 p.m. Proceeds of the sale go buy eye glasses for needy children in this area who cannot afford them. All money taken in on the broom sale is used locally, so if you need a broom now or in the very near future, wait and buy one from the Hope Lions Club. Two kinds will be sold: warehouse brooms and the regular house broom. These brooms are made in Arkansas and are of the highest quality.

John E. Cecil, 75, Retired Farmer, Dies Here Today

John E. Cecil, aged 75, a retired farmer, died today in a local hospital. A longtime resident of Sheffield, Ill. Mr. Cecil had lived here for the past two years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bonnie Cecil, a sister, Mrs. E. M. Strout of Buda, Ill.

The body will be taken to Sheffield for burial by Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Service.

Bridge Falls, Man Killed Near Prescott

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP)—An old bridge which was being demolished gave way prematurely yesterday, hurling one workman to his death and injuring two others.

The men, employees of R. N. Reynolds Construction Co. of Camden, were on top of the steel bridge when it buckled into the Little Missouri River. It had been replaced by a new bridge along-side.

The body of Herschel Lee Gully, 26, of Camden, was recovered from the river about three hours after the collapse. Coroner Ernest Jameson ruled death was "due to drowning, but added Gully had a fractured skull, apparently received when his head struck part of the new bridge.

The injured workmen were Alex Gossell, 30, and Jess Randolph, 48, both of Camden.

Cause of the bridge collapse was unknown. The bridge was on Highway 24 between Prescott and Delight.

McClellan Keeps Control of Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Permanent Investigations Subcommittee will take over the defunct Senate Rackets Committee's power to investigate labor racketeering.

A resolution passed yesterday by the Senate gives the subcommittee broad standby powers and a $75,000 budget to continue the Rackets Committee's work until Jan. 31.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) who headed the Rackets Committee, also heads the permanent investigations committee. He had asked for the extension, saying much invaluable evidence had been left in a sort of vacuum when the Rackets Committee expired March 31.

Local citizens are reminded of the Club's annual broom sale to be held Tuesday night, April 19, beginning at 6 p.m. Proceeds of the sale go buy eye glasses for needy children in this area who cannot afford them. All money taken in on the broom sale is used locally, so if you need a broom now or in the very near future, wait and buy one from the Hope Lions Club. New Rebel Group Forming in Cuba; Rejects U.S. Plea

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—An insurgent band led by a former Castro officer was reported bottled up in the Sierra Maestra Mountains of eastern Cuba today, but the government refused to talk about it.

Unconfirmed reports said troops and militiamen in Oriente province were moving in on an encircled group of about 40 guerrillas led by Manuel Beaton, former captain in Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces. It was from these mountains that Castro launched his revolution.

Maj. Calixto Garcia, commander of the mountain area, refused to discuss the reports with newsmen who reached him by telephone at his headquarters in Palma Soriano.

Military authorities in Havana and officials in Oriente province said they knew nothing about Beaton or his guerrillas.

The semi-official newspaper Revolution said Saturday that Beaton was heading a gang of bandits in the area. The paper accused the band of killing a peasant, a seisco Tamayo, who had been associated with Castro during the revolution. But the Havana newspaper El Crisol later identified Tamayo as chief of a government army unit.

Another unconfirmed report said a second guerrilla band was roaming the Sierra Cristal, a mountain range north of the Sierra Maestra.

Beaton recently escaped from Havana's La Cabaña military fortress, where he had been held on charges of killing an army major and two soldiers at the gates of Camp Libertad, outside the capital, several months ago.

Beaton denied he was responsible for the shooting. Friends said he had been made a scapegoat.

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fidel Castro's Cuban government has rejected an American plea to return two American fliers shot down in Cuba after a sneak flight from Florida.

The State Department, disclosing this Monday, announced its own rejection of three Cuban protests on other matters.

At the time the two fliers were arrested, Cuba said they were trying to spirit out of the country a former agent of ex-President Fulgencio Batista, who was deposed by Castro's revolution.

U.S. authorities later said they obtained a statement from one of the American fliers, William J. Schergales, 34, that Castro's regime cooked up the flight to embarrass the United States.

Cuba's refusal to return the men heightened Washington suspicions on this score. Cuba said Schergales and Howard Rundquist, 33, are subject to Cuban court action for a crime against Cuba.

The United States had wanted to investigate Schergales and Rundquist for possible violation of American laws in making their secret flight.

Unemployment Shows Biggest Jump in Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment jumped 275,000 in March, the biggest increase for a month since World War II. Employment declined by 253,000.

The Labor Department reporting these figures today, blamed the darkened job picture almost entirely on heavy snows and generally bad weather in March. It predicted a sharp rebound in April.

Employment dropped from 61,520,000 in February to 61,247,000 in March. Normally, employment increases during March by about 450,000.

Unemployment rose from 3,931,000 to 4,206,000. Normally, the idle total declines by about 180,000 in March as compared with February.

The figures mean that 6.9 per cent of all Americans seeking work had jobs in March, but that 5.4 per cent of job seekers couldn't find employment.

Cuba Airliner Crew Seeks U.S. Asylum

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Cubana Airlines flight crew brought their airplane to Miami on a regular run today then asked for political asylum.

The three crew members, joined by one passenger, said the Cuban government was infiltrated by communism and they wanted no part of it.

Fifteen other passengers, 11 aliens and four U.S. citizens, were unaware of the drama in the making during the Havana-Miami flight.

The plane landed safely, but two of its engines burned out after it reached the ground.

The crew was greeted by Eduardo Whitehouse, Cuba's civil aviation chief under the ousted Batista dictatorship. He said he had a hunch for a couple of days that the defectors were on route.

The crew members added that another reason for their discontent with the government of Premier Fidel Castro was that they were forced into the Cuban Air Force although employed at the same time by Cubana.

In Cuba spurred a Cuban protest over a new U.S. clampdown on sale of helicopters to Cuba.

The U.S. reply said a policy was being two years ago of closely studying all Caribbean arms requests. It said arms shipments had been denied to Batista before Castro.

It was the profound hope of the United States that with the establishment of the present government of Cuba, peace and tranquillity would be restored to the Caribbean area, the note said. "This hope has not been realized."

In another note, the United States rejected as unfounded a Cuban charge that former Batista army men are being employed at the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo. The note also refused a request to re-hire a Cuban labor leader who had been fired at the base.

The third note turned down a Cuban request to keep U.S. fruit inspectors in Cuba. These Agriculture Department inspectors had been sent to Cuba in 1955 to help Cuban shippers meet U. S. marketing standards for fruits and vegetables.

The note said the inspectors were needed elsewhere and that Cuba had been notified last December that they would be withdrawn by the end of February.

the government for an investigation of the reasons for Negro unrest once the present state of emergency is ended.

Graff spoke at a news conference in Cape Town while police pressed further raids for alleged subversives. The Cabinet made clear there will be no easing of South Africa's strict segregation policies during the convalescence of Verwoerd.

The United party's chieftain said the proposed inquiry would provide an opportunity for criticism of the government's handling of the present situation.

Both the United party and Verwoerd's dominant National party are for continued white supremacy in South Africa but differ as to methods.

Three armored cars backed a 100 police, white and Negro, in raids today on African settlements in southwest Johannesburg. These were part of a campaign to root out alleged African gangster elements and to seize contraband weapons.

Newspapers were filled with government warnings that apartheid policies will be strictly maintained while Verwoerd, shot twice in the head by a white farmer Saturday, is on the sidelines.

Lands Minister Paul Sauer, heading the government in Verwoerd's absence, asserted that authorities are determined to stamp out Negro "incubators and intimidators" the government blames for continuing racial strife.

Similar statements were issued by Foreign Minister Eric Louw and Justice Minister Francois Erasmus.

Police announced their raids to seek out suspected subversives would continue.

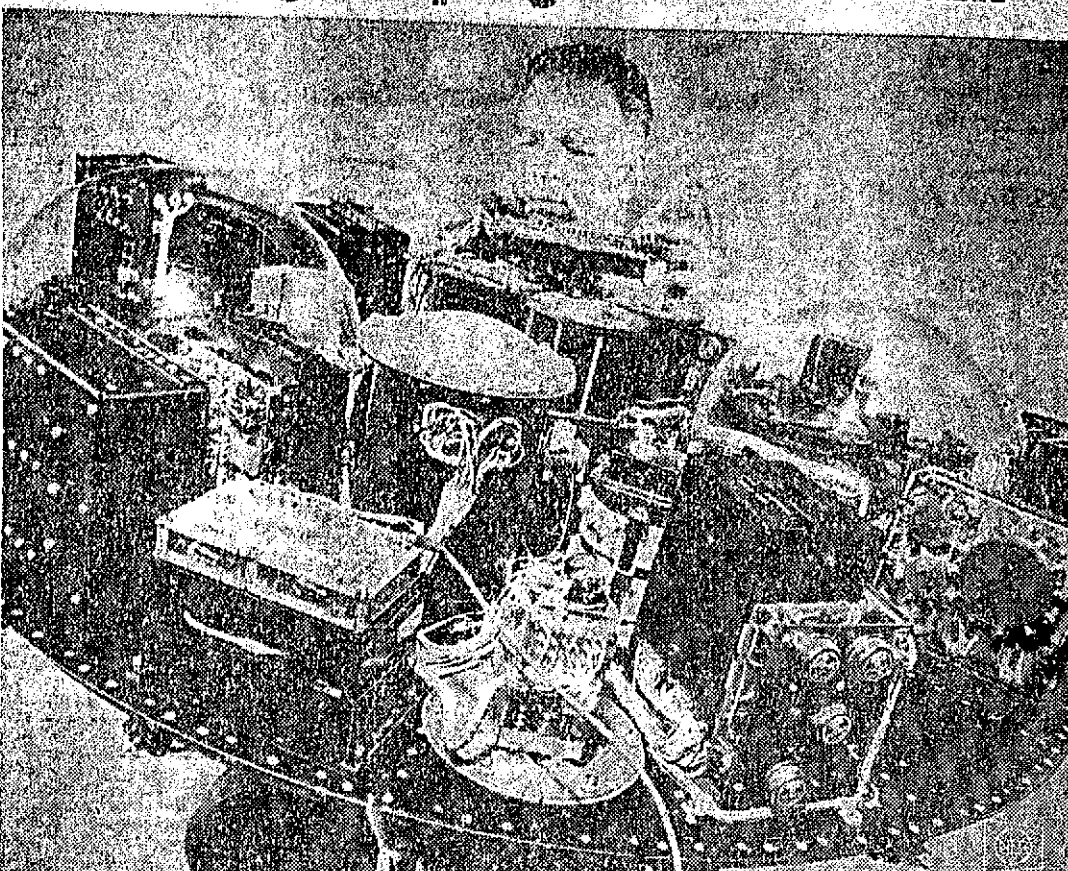

There were also numerous warnings to foreign correspondents, some of whom were accused of sending exaggerated reports of the National party government's police actions against the Negroes.

Police ordered the press to stop printing the name of David Pratt, wealthy white farmer who shot Verwoerd twice in the head Saturday.

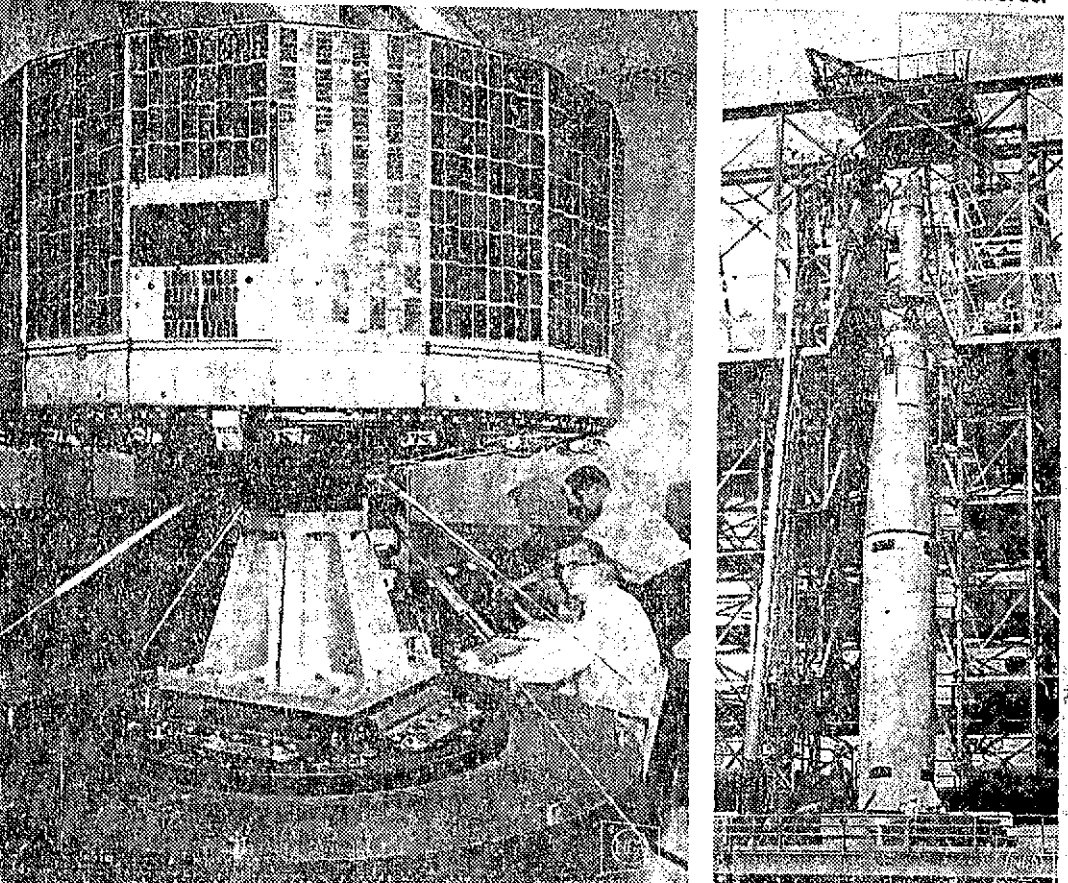

Pratt is being held under the emergency regulations now in effect, which permit the government to file charges against him at its convenience. A police spokesman said he "will appear in court at some future date."

Some papers speculated that Pratt—described by friends as a

One of first pictures taken by Tiros, left, was from a point off the Atlantic Coast at an altitude of 450 miles. Map, right, shows the approximate area contained in the photograph.

TIROS, AMERICA'S NEWEST EARTH satellite, has already made hundreds of trips around the earth and relayed pictures of global weather over Europe, Russia, China, Japan and the United States. Scientists say this information may lead to better knowledge of storms and prevention of mass disaster. Not a military satellite, Tiros' findings will be made available to the world. Called the most elaborate electronic package yet orbited, the 270-pound satellite contains two miniature, palm-size TV cameras, video tape recorders, transmitters, sun-powered batteries and control and communications equipment. Magnetic tapes store a stream of electronic impulses which are beamed to earth when a button is pressed and reassembled into pictures. Circling the globe every 99 minutes at an average altitude of 440 miles, Tiros will eventually provide photographs of weather formations in a 7,000-mile-wide belt straddling the equator. in the industry are inclined to consider some of these questions in a rather jocular vein," he said.

Harris, in a statement opening an expected two days of hearings on various new broadcasting industry controls, also renewed criticism of the FCC.

He made an obvious reference to congressional charges that the FCC failed to perform its duties in cracking down on rigged TV quiz shows.

"The problem of legislating in these areas is not made any easier when there is some doubt whether the Congress can count on responsible cooperation of the part of the regulatory agencies whose job it is to administer broad delegations of power in the light of the rule of reason," Harris said.

"If the agencies are either unwilling or incapable to perform this function, which is an administrative one, then one they are failing to fulfill the principle purpose for which they were established."

Insurance Executive of WOW Dies

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. Emmett Bradshaw, 61, a native Arkansan, who became president and board chairman of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Co., died Sunday at Locust Valley, Long Island, N. Y.

Bradshaw practiced law at Little Rock until he was named general counsel of the insurance society in 1916. That necessitated a move to Omaha, Neb., headquarters of the WOW.

He had lived in Omaha since but visited frequently in Arkansas.

Bradshaw became president of the insurance society in 1932 and chairman of the board in 1943. He had been honorary board chairman since 1956.

Bradshaw was born in Izard County, the child of a farm family. He started law practice at Little Rock in the mid-1890s.

In latter years Bradshaw was a director of a number of companies, including the Omaha National Bank, Western Union, the American District Telegraph Co. and the Ludman Corp.

Survivors include his widow, who has been ill at Locust Valley for many months; two daughters, Mrs. John B. Dawson of Locust Valley and Mrs. Mason S. Zerbe of Omaha.

The funeral will be held at Omaha Thursday.

Faubus Says McClellan Best Bet

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) would run a better race as the Democratic nominee for president than any of the current major contenders for the nomination, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today.

The governor made the statement at a press conference when asked for comment on a Look Magazine article which said McClellan's Arkansas background ruined him as a presidential possibility.

Faubus prefaced his comments with a question: "Has the lady ever been to Arkansas?"

The governor went on to say he did not think the voters of the country would reject a candidate simply because he is an Arkansan or a Southerner.

"I think McClellan would run a better race against (vice President) Richard Nixon than any of the five present leading contenders for the Democratic nomination," Faubus said.

Faubus criticized the "bogus liberalism" of Northern candidates and said he felt the liberal label defeated Adlai Stevenson in 1952 and 1956.

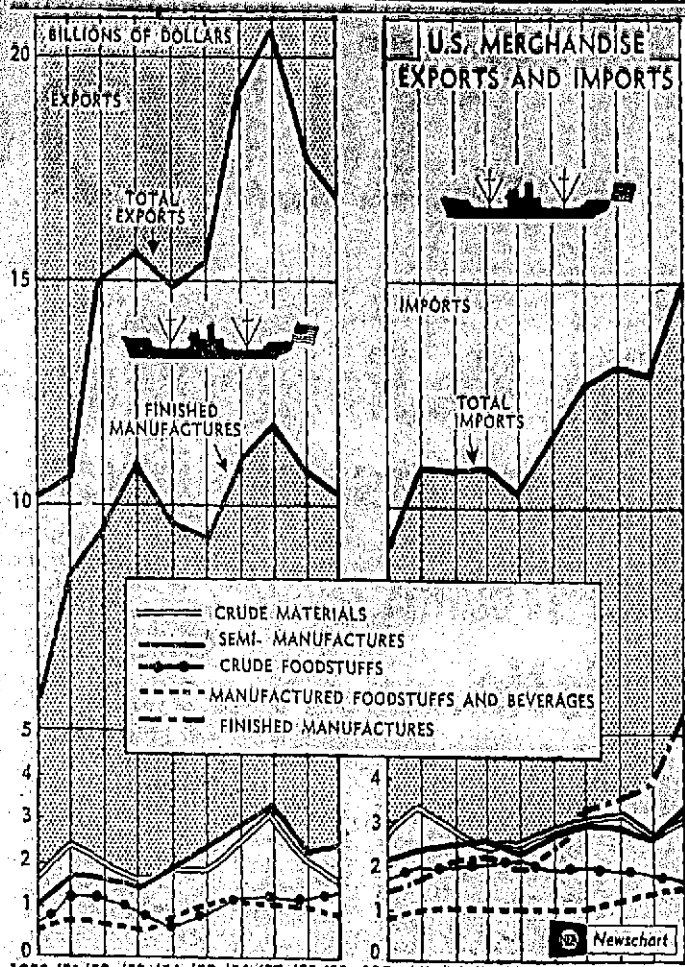

Faubus called Miss Colt's opinions "the distorted viewpoint of the self-styled liberal observing from afar."

Either McClellan or Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) would have wide support as presidential candidates, even if they are Southerners, Faubus declared.

The governor flatly declined to comment on remarks made yesterday by Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, who is opposing Faubus' bid for a fourth term.

Bennett predicted sweeping changes in Faubus' administrative family as the governor gets ready for this summer's campaign.

The opening witness on the proposed bills was Frederick W. Ford, who took over last month as chairman of the FCC.

Declares Fires Started Purposely

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Forester Fred H. Lang says too many forest fires are being started "for a few sprigs of early grass to nourish some wobbly-legged cows."

Lang estimated that 45 per cent of the fires which blackened more than 82,000 acres of woodlands in the first nine days of April were set deliberately—many of them in what he said was the notion that burning fields makes grass grow earlier and better.

He questioned the value of fires as an aid to grass production and noted that burning a sedge field "merely produces more sedge by keeping soil fertility at a low level."

Lang said future generations will suffer from the timber fires. He listed these long-range effects: Loss of soil fertility due to destruction of organic matter which forms top soil. Damage to watersheds and erosion resulting from loss of trees, shrubs and other plants which hold soil in place. Destruction of game-harboring areas. Bad impression upon tourists and recreationists. And destruction of small trees which "delays the production of merchantable timber to be needed so badly by our expanding population."

Predicts Faubus to Make Changes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus will resign his administration before campaigning for the gubernatorial primary election this summer, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett predicted yesterday.

Bennett, who also seeks the Democratic nomination for governor, predicted these changes:

1. Employment Security Administrator J. L. Bland of Walnut Ridge will resign to head Faubus' campaign.

2. Rolia Fitch will move from his post as a Faubus assistant to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

3. Arnold Sikes, now a Commerce Commission member, will replace Fitch in the governor's office.

4. Ed McDonald, newly hired ESD manpower co-ordinator, will head the ESD temporarily.

Faubus was not available for comment on the prediction.

Teacher Retires Changes Expected

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus expects the 1961 Legislature will be asked to make some changes in the state's teacher retirement law.

Faubus met yesterday with State Education Commissioner Arch Ford and other education leaders.

Later he said, "It looks like some new legislation next session may be necessary." He did not specify what changes might be asked.

A special legislative session in January had to appropriate $800,000 for the retirement system.

Some 2,500 teachers now receive retirement pay. Last year a total of $2,398,000 was paid to retired teachers.

Knew of Hurricane

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Australian weathermen say they have known for a week about the hurricane spotted by Tirois I, but they hailed the American weather satellite's report as a "magnificent achievement."

The Melbourne Weather Bureau placed the eye of the hurricane 1,000 miles east of Brisbane as of Sunday noon. This was only 200 miles from the position fixed by Tirois' camera in what Washington believed was the first reporting of the storm.

A spokesman for the bureau said the hurricane was moving southeastward. So far no damage has been reported, he said.

Easter is for little girls as well as big girls. And any little girl feels really dressed up when she's wearing ruffles and ribbons. Here are three different ways for a small girl to look on Easter Sunday. The Celeste touch is evident in this sheer plaid (left) with white pique top. Top is trimmed with ribbon heading and lace. Skirt swirls over its own attached petticoat. A sleeveless organdy dress (center) by this same designer is what a little girl might wear to an indoor Easter egg hunt. Tucked bodice has tiny ocean pearl buttons as trim. Brown and white are combined in a woven cotton check dress (right) by Nannette. Dress has overyoke and overskirt of solid brown organdy embroidered in white. Collar and puff sleeves are trimmed with lace.

Fluffy party pinafores for Easter Sunday and after give a girl a wordy, grown-up feeling. Pale blue no-iron cotton (left) is worn with white organdy pinafore with embroidered bodice. There's matching bonnet. The tot in pink (right) also wears a no-iron cotton with puff sleeves and a white eyelet-embroidered pinafore. These are Nannette designs. — By GAILE DUGAS, Newspaper Enterprise Women's Editor.

DOROTHY DIX Parents' Dating Rules for 15-Year-Old Daughter

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My husband and I would appreciate your opinion of these dating rules for our 15-year-old daughter:

1. She may attend house parties if a parent is home to supervise.

2. She may attend dances but must not go out during the dance to park or ride with a boy. (We provide her transportation to and from dances.)

3. She may accept an invitation from a boy to a church or school affair or movie if his parents provide transportation. (If not, we will.)

4. She may attend an afternoon movie with a boy, providing they travel by bus and another couple goes along.

5. She may entertain a boy or a group of her friends in her own home, providing one of her parents is home.

Our daughter resents our rules. She insists that all girls her age ride in cars and feels foolish explaining why that she cannot. She refuses to entertain anyone in her home because she doesn't know how to act with them. She says she won't date till she is 18 and can have more freedom.

We have warned her not to be stubborn. If she doesn't learn to mix properly now, she will not know how to handle herself on dates at 16. We don't want to be unreasonable; therefore, we seek your advice. Are the rules we've set up too strict?—Mrs. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: Stick to your reasonable rules of conduct for that teenage daughter. She rebels because obeying them would single her out from the herd. And, if there is one thing a teen-ager does not want, it is to be different.

Your daughter may resent the rules now but she'll bless it and you in the years to come. She's a lucky girl!

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I came from a large and poor Algerian town of Tizi Ouzou to graduate from high school last summer. I met a boy whose parents are socially prominent in our city. We are very much in love and have been dating secretly since then. His parents object to my background. We plan to elope because of his parents' objection. Does our marriage have a chance?—Poor Girl

Dear Poor Girl: Poverty is no disgrace. It's your credit that you did work your way through high school. Because of that character building experience, you are all the better equipped to be a wife and mother. Your marriage has every chance in the world if you really love one another. That question, only you and the boy can answer. May the happiness you deserve be yours!

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My son has known his girl for a year but for the last six months has been "a steady." She wanted him to buy her a "hope chest." Since he is still in school, I advised against what I felt was to be a gift at this time. She continues to press him for it. Is it a proper gift when there is no definite time set for their wedding? He is wholly dependent on me for his schooling. I work. Am I old-fashioned?—A Mother in Doubt

Dear Mother in Doubt: No, you are not old-fashioned. It would be in bad taste for either your son or you to give his girl a hope chest.

According to the dictionary, "The hope chest is a chest, or box, in which a young woman accumulates an outfit of clothing, mix proper now, she will not know how to handle herself on dates at 16. Two Held in Post Office Burglary

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Police said charges would be filed today against a 50-year-old man and 17-year-old boy, both of Little Rock, in connection with a Bald Knob post office burglary.

Sgt. Chesley Clinton said W.B. Cordell and the youth, whose names were not released, admitted taking part in the burglary last Nov. 30.

Shots were exchanged by Night Marshal Charles Watkins and two men he surprised in the post office.

Clanton said Cordell also would be charged with assault with intent to kill, in addition to the burglary count.

Sgt. Chesley Clinton said W.B. Cordell and the youth, whose names were not released, admitted taking part in the burglary last Nov. 30.

National Loop Gets Down to Business Today

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Can the Dodgers do it again? Have the Giants found the pitcher?

The answer to one question will answer them all, and the National League gets to work on the quiz today, opening the 1960 baseball season a week ahead of the American League.

The world champion Dodgers, still at home in the spacious and majestic Los Angeles Coliseum, open with a night game against the Chicago Cubs. The Milwaukee Braves, who lost the 1959 pennant in a playoff with the Dodgers, and the San Francisco Giants, popular pre-season picks, open at home in afternoon games—the Braves against Pittsburgh and the Giants in their new Candlestick Park against St. Louis.

The Cincinnati Reds, as usual, also open at home, against Philadelphia.

While today's openers come a couple of days later than last year's, the majors have come up with a rare split bill. American League clubs, still playing exhibitions in Florida, don't start playing for real until Monday, when Washington and Boston stage the traditional opener in the nation's capital.

It's right-hander Don Drysdale, whose troubles in a 17-13 season made it tough for the Dodgers a year ago, against the Cubs and right-hander Bob Anderson, Dodger manager. Wall Alston has named virtually the same line-up that won it all last season—Gil Hodges at first, Charlie Neal at second, Manny Williams at short, Junior Gillikin at third, Wally Moon, Don Demeter and Duke Snider in the outfield and John Roseboro behind the plate.

The Cubs, with Charlie Grimm replacing Bob Scheffing for his third season as manager, have four new faces among the starters, but only one is a rookie, tiebreaker Ashburn, late of the Phillies, is in center. Frank Thomas, last with Cincinnati, at third; Don Zimmer, long a Dodger, at short, and new-comer Len Johnson in right.

The Giants, who blew a two-game lead in the last 10 days of the season a year ago, picked 21-game winner Sam Jones for their debut in the new 15-million-dollar park against the Cards and right-hander Larry Jackson (14-13).

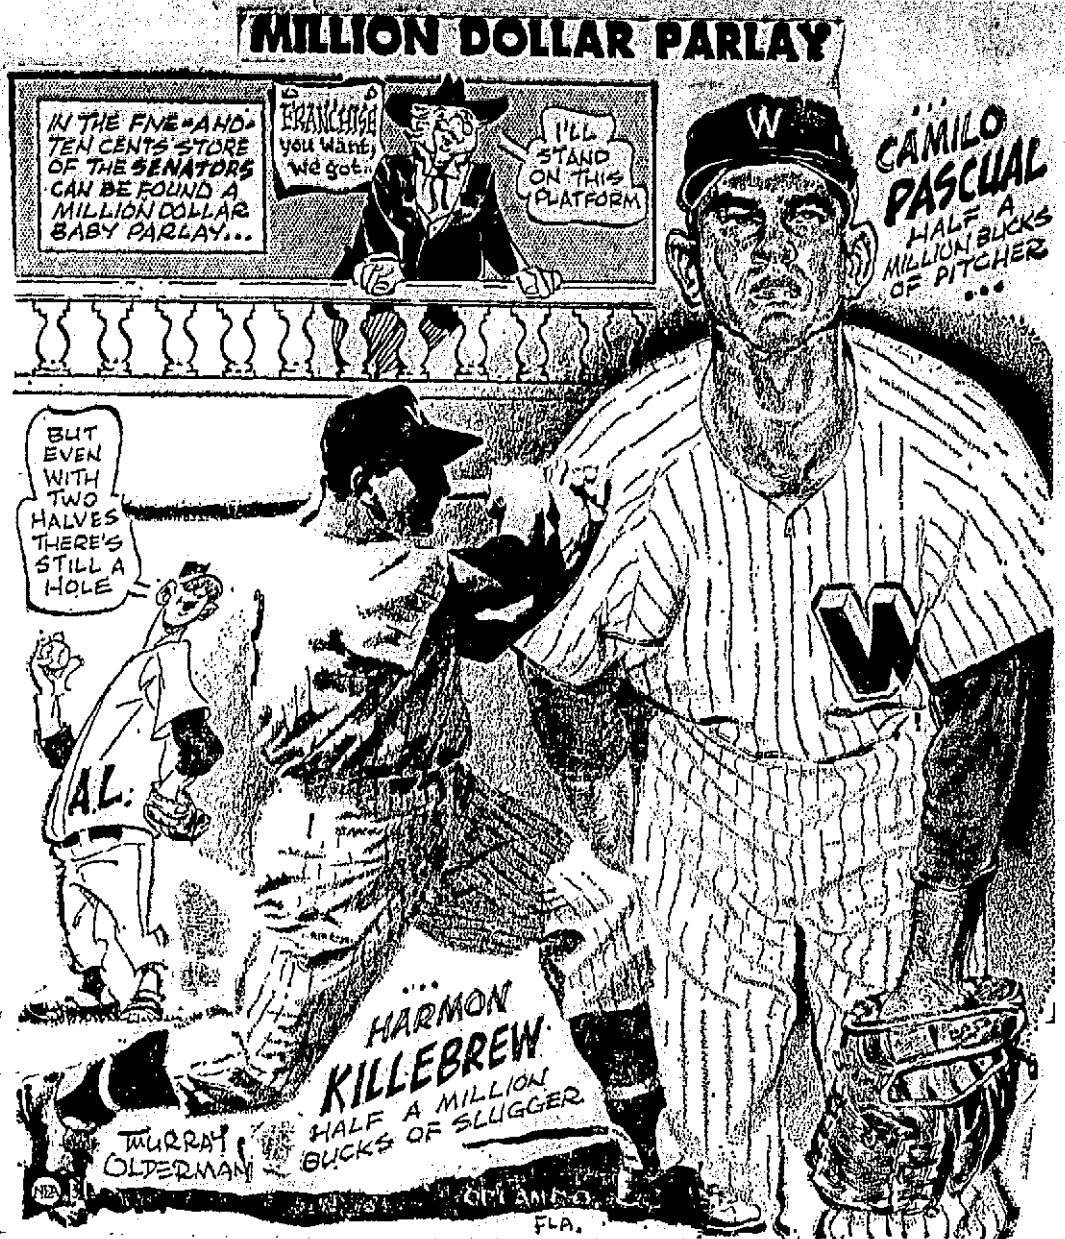

Manager Bill Rigney, on the spot in what shapes up as another three-way fight with the Dodgers and Braves, has Don Blasingame at second base, but the rest of the Giant line-up is about the same. The big difference is in the bullpen and on the bench with the addition of pitchers Billy O'Hell and Billy Loes from Baltimore, Dale Long from the Cubs and Jim Marshall from Boston.

Right fielder Leon Wagner and shortstop Daryl Spencer, whom the Giants gave up to get Blasingame as a leadoff hitter, were in Manager Billy Hennis' starting lineup for the Cards.

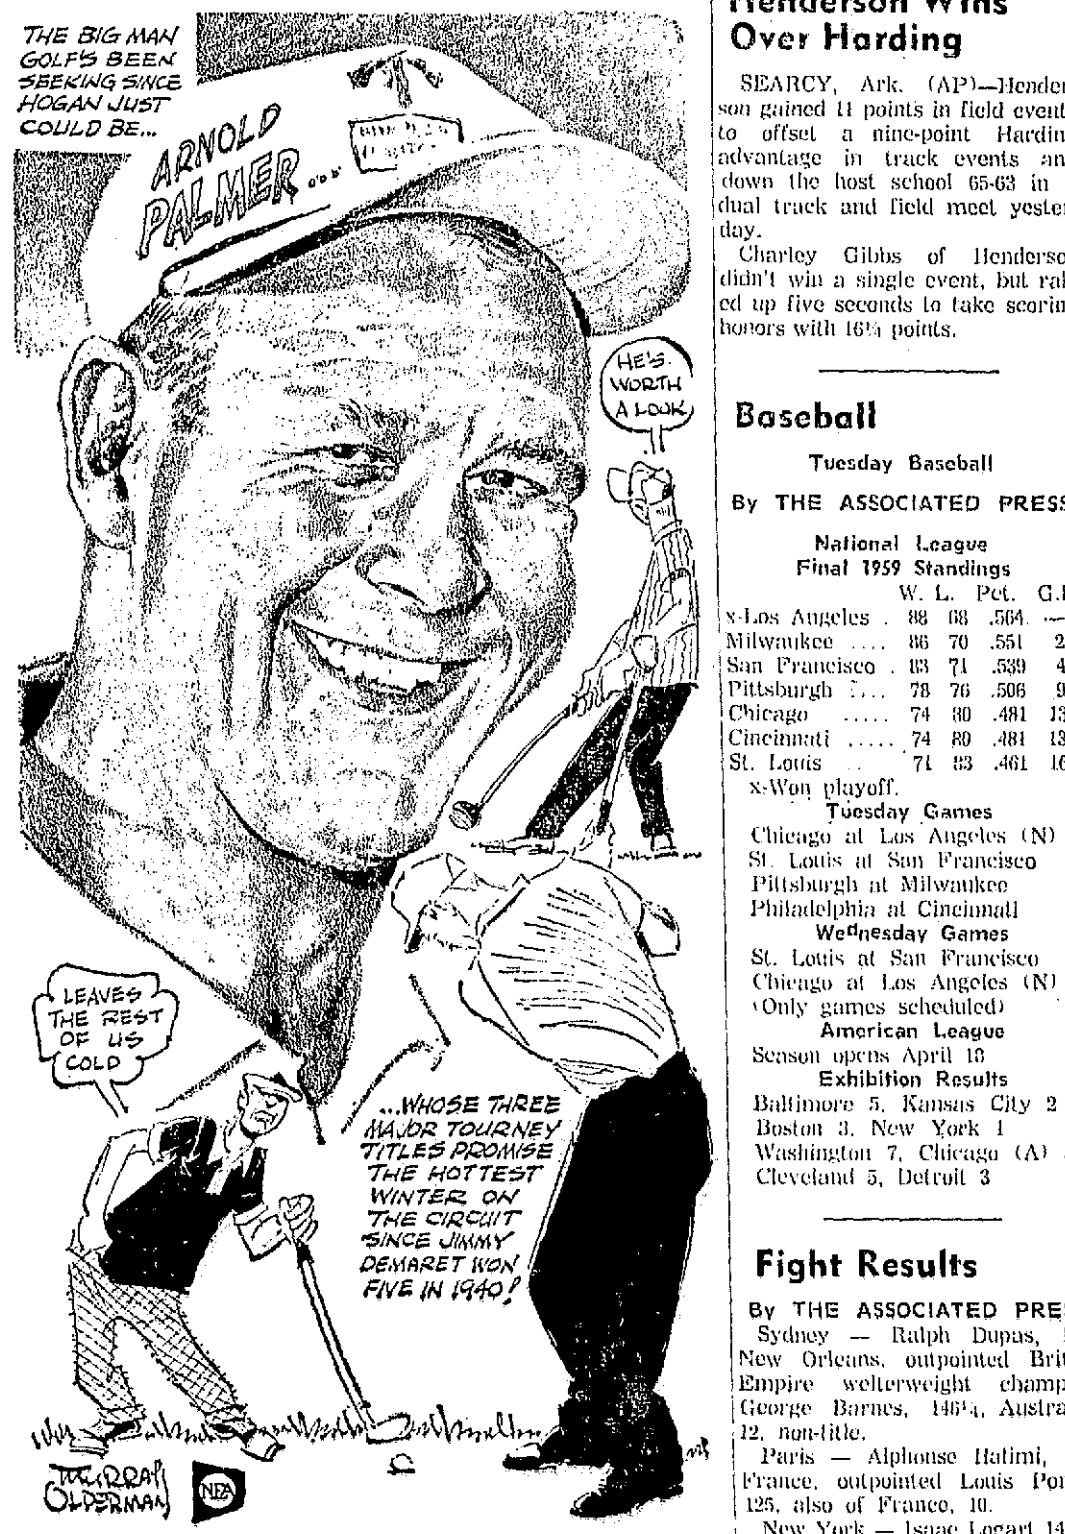

Milwaukee, missing a third straight pennant under Fred Haney by just one game last year, tries this time with Dressen, a manager death after serving as a coach with the Dodgers. Dressen, who tossed pennant winners at Brooklyn, had just one rookie, left fielder Al Spangler, in the line-up behind southpaw Warren Spahn (21-15).

The Pirates, trying to delay Spahn's 20th victory, started with slumped-down right-hander Bob Friend (8-10), Catcher Hal Smith, previously with Kansas City, was the only newcomer in Manager Danny Mortalag's starting line-up.

The new faces club is Philadelphia. Manager Eddie Sawyer, whose Phillies are almost a unanimous pick to finish last again, named only three holdovers from last April—starting right-hander Robin Roberts (15-17), making his 11th consecutive opening day ap-

Roaring Drunk, Police Declare

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"He was roaring drunk," said arresting officer E. J. Hill. "How he managed to get the mainsail up is beyond any of us."

But police say Arnold Moore somehow managed to steal a 67-foot yacht Saturday—although he had more sheets to the wind than the yacht.

The schooner Tamarit was headed for a breakwater when harbor police jumped aboard from a pursuing launch. Moore was hooked on suspicion of grand theft. Officers said he is on probation for stealing a boat several days ago.

The island of Crete in the Mediterranean has a population of 300,000 today. It was inhabited by Greek tribes 6,000 years before Christ.

Manager Freddie Hutchinson picked Jim Brosnan 9-6, a right-hander to start for the Reds. Billy Martin acquired in the swap that sent Johnny Temple to Cleveland, made his NL debut at second base with rookie Tony Gonzalez in right.

Given a break by the weather, the National expected to set an opening day attendance record. A crowd of 50,000 is the hope at Los Angeles, which could swell the day's total to about 165,000.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

State Drops Game

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State lost an error-filled baseball game 10-7 yesterday to Quincy College of Illinois.

The Indians committed seven errors to offset their 14 hits. Quincy, with 13 hits, had six mis-cues.

John Lavin of Quincy hit a home run with one man on, the only round-tripper in the 27 hits.

Canadians Hopeful in Cup Match

TORONTO (AP)—The jet-propelled Montreal Canadiens hope to take up where they left off in Montreal when they meet the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight in the third game of the Stanley Cup final playoffs.

The Canadiens hold a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series after two victories on their own ice. Now they must face Punch Imlach's crew in its lair but seemed totally unconcerned about the foreign surroundings.

Bernard (Boon Boom) Geoffrion, Henri Richard and Jean Beliveau paused and smiled for a photographer and reporter who welcomed them.

"We'll make up for it when we walk out again Thursday — with the Stanley Cup," Henri said.

The fourth game is set for Thursday night and that's the time many hockey observers figure the Canadiens will win the cup for the fifth consecutive season.

But the Leafs, who started out as 1-to-5 underdogs, have been anything but pushovers. They dropped the opener 4-2 and the second game 2-1—a contest that could have gone the other way.

"I'll tell you something," Imlach said. "We'll win the next two at home if that's the best the Canadiens can do."

Porkers Lick Colorado

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks, a 17-2 drubbing of Colorado under their belts, go after a second straight baseball victory over the Buffs today.

The Porkers swamped Colorado yesterday with 16 hits and four-hit pitching by John Kerr. The Hogs had seven doubles, three of them by Norman Revis.

The Razorbacks leave tomorrow on an 11-game road trip.

Robertson May Join Globetrotters

NEW YORK (AP)—The big question among the National Basketball Assn. brass today was:

Will Oscar Robertson cast his lot with the league or will he go with the Harlem Globetrotters?

They won't have their answer until after the Olympics this summer, because the towering University of Cincinnati All-American is a member of the U. S. team that will compete in Rome.

Robertson, who piled up a record-breaking 2,073 points during his collegiate career, was selected by the Cincinnati Royals at the annual NBA draft session Monday.

If he decides to join the Royals, it would mean a great shot in the arm for the financially troubled Cincinnati club. There have been rumors that the Royals were staying in business waiting for the day when Robertson would don a Cincinnati uniform.

All told, 101 college players were drafted. Cincinnati led all the other teams with 21 selections. All-American Jerry West of West Virginia and Darrell Imhoff of California, were drafted by the Minneapolis Lakers and New York Knickerbockers, respectively.

Practice Leap Was Last One

STORMVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Sports parachutist George Saris, 27, leaped from a plane Sunday night for a 4,000-foot practice jump. The chute didn't open until 100 feet off the ground and Saris, a New York City resident, was killed.

Hog Gridders Will Start Rough Work

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas football players bump heads again today to tone up for a game-condition scrimmage Thursday, the first of spring football practice.

Coach Frank Broyles, after a look at his 73-man squad yesterday, pronounced them "all in good shape." He said of the first day's practice, "It was a good afternoon's work."

After workouts today and tomorrow and Thursday's scrimmage—to be filmed for grading purposes by the coaching staff—the Hogs will get a week off, then return for 14 more days of work after Easter vacation.

On hand for practice is Jack Davis, former Natchez, Miss., high school coach who will handle the T team.

Most of the players out for spring practice are redshirts and freshmen or squadmen who have not seen much varsity action.

Barricades in House, Holds Child Hostage

By JACK WHITE

PULASKI, Va. (AP)—Besieging police, under a hail of gunfire from a young husband held up for 20 hours in a brick bungalow, sought some way today to get him out without endangering his 10-year-old hostage.

There were reports state police had worked out a plan and requested permission from their Richmond headquarters to put it into operation. They hoped to be able to capture Jack Jennings, 18, without further unnecessary risk to the young girl—his sister-in-law, Barbara Butts.

The decision that something had to be done apparently came after Jennings, unemployed mill hand, shot out an arrow with a note attached, threatening harm to his sister-in-law if a conference wasn't arranged.

"How would all you all like it if a 10-year-old girl got raped?" the note read. "I don't think you would like it, so let's get somebody out there to talk to me fast."

The note was signed "Jackie."

Jennings broke away from police taking him to jail Monday after a court hearing on a charge of unauthorized use of a car. He forced Barbara Butts, his sister-in-law, to accompany him, and took refuge in the house, the residence of C. W. Butts, his father-in-law.

A small army of police surrounded the home.

Except for occasional shouted invectives, the night hours passed quietly. Then at 8:20 a.m. Jennings fired two shots—apparently without any specific target—into a vacant lot across the street.

A few minutes later he spotted photographers Doug Lester and Sonny Willis of Christiansburg crouched behind a tree and called:

"Get the hell out from behind that tree."

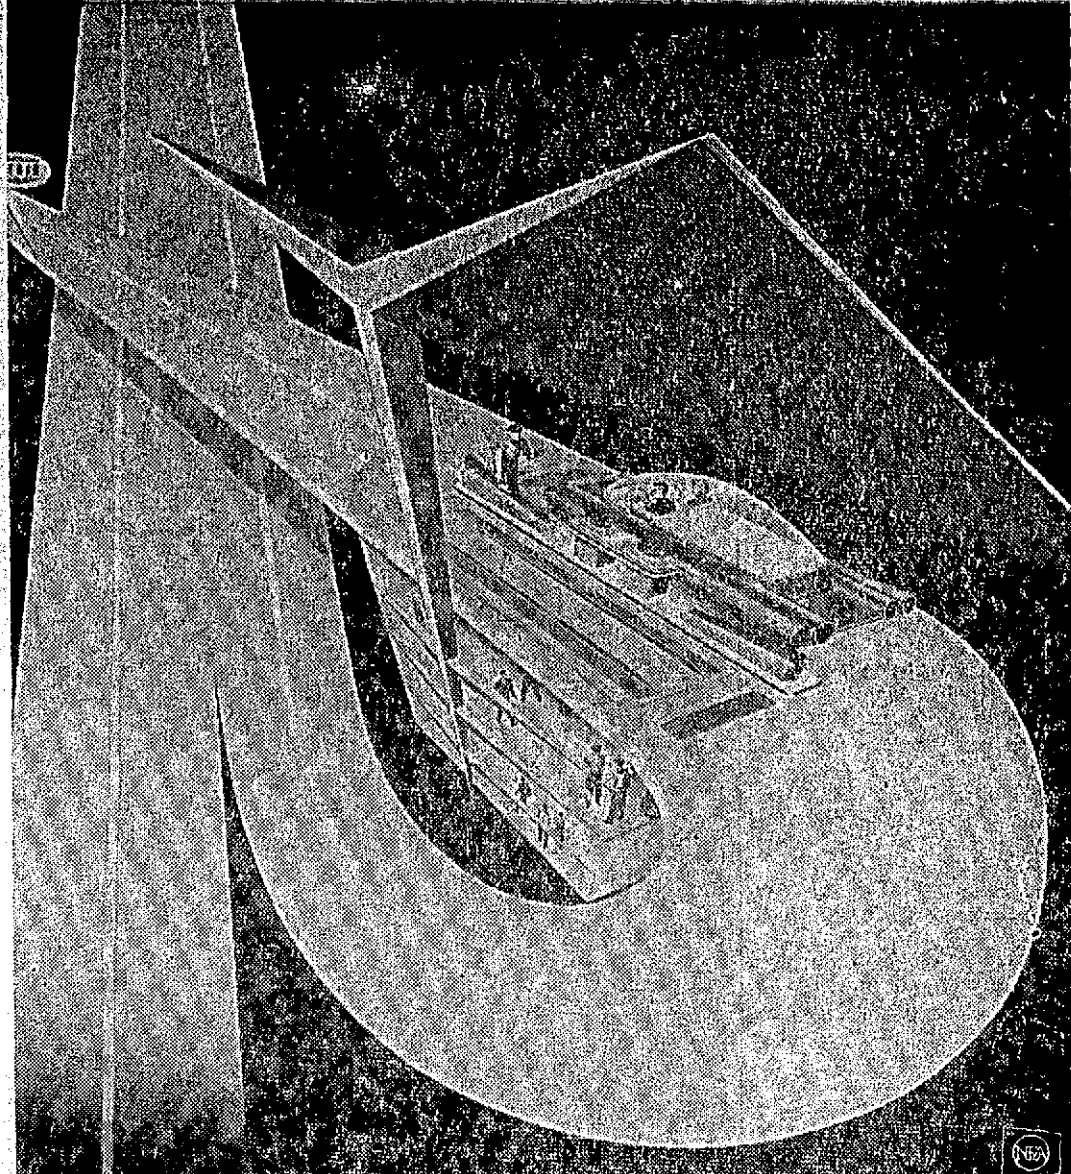

Pellets from a shot splattered around a tree, forcing the men to hug the ground. As Jennings reloaded, the two broke to safety.

After he fired the arrow and note into the parking lot of a service station across the street, Jennings fired three more times.

The telephone company disconnected the phone to the Butts home, after Jennings had talked during the night to newsmen from throughout the country.

During a call placed by The Associated Press, Jennings said he would give up his fight for free passage out of town and a job elsewhere.

At that time he said little Bar-

THINKING AHEAD—The service station of the future—15 or 20 years from now—will likely be quite different from the ones of today. Speedy, one-stop servicing of complicated vehicles will be a must. Shown above is a Soho artist's idea of a superhighway station. On street level are gas-oil facilities with complete touring accommodations—even for an overnight stop—installed underground. Included would be room for repairs, rest and restaurants.

A CRYING SHAME—Tears, a woman's ultimate weapon, are being put into the service of science. Mary Drotos, a Cleveland, Ohio, student, is experimenting with them as a science fair project to prove they kill bacteria. But Mary's having a tough time producing the tears. She's tried standing in the wind, cutting up onion, thinking of sad stories and sniffing ammonia. When her own eyes are cried out, she turns to volunteer weepers. Results: so far some bacteria (could they be male?) are killed by the tears; others thrive. More crying jags are in order.

bara was "just fine. She's asleep now."

He was asked what he thought the escapade would gain him.

"A couple of dead cops. I just don't like them. They're always on my back about something."

He had been charged with unauthorized use of his father-in-law's car.

New Violence Erupts for Tenth Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New violence erupted in the South during the 10th week of the sit-down demonstrations.

A fight, the brandishing of a shovel and the drawing of knives marked protests against segregation in Nashville, Tenn., Monday after nearly three weeks of calm. Two arrests were made.

The first Negro boycott of white merchants in Mississippi was reported at Jackson. Police and merchants said it fizzled. But a spokesman for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People described the attempt as 70 per cent effective.

More than 100 Negroes demonstrated at four stores in Concord, N.C., and six of them were arrested. The woman proprietor of a store was charged with assault.

The turbulent scenes occurred on a day a United Nations mediator termed peaceful demonstrations for desegregated service at lunch counters "the resurgence of the American dream."

Dr. Frank P. Graham, former U.S. senator and a former president of the University of North Carolina, made the statement while speaking to the North Carolina Conference for Social Service at Raleigh.

Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota called on white college students demonstrating for Negro rights at a Minneapolis park area "to rise to the high level of courage and moral conviction required to fight for principles of equality and brotherhood" in the North as well as in the South.

At Atlanta, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a Negro integration leader, said Negro college students from 40 communities where protests have been staged would meet in Raleigh, N.C., Easter weekend.

He said the sessions might lead to development of a "selective buying program" as well as formation of a southwide council to battle racial segregation.

Halt Kennedy Talk Flares in W. Virginia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Talk of a stop Kennedy movement flared in West Virginia today at the same time talk of a stop Nixon movement seemed snuffed in New York.

In West Virginia, political observers wondered whether a host of Democratic presidential candidates had thrown their support to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in the state's May 10 primary.

Their aim: to halt the momentum of Sen. John F. Kennedy's drive toward the party's nomination. The Massachusetts senator and Humphrey are the only candidates entered in the primary.

In New York, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller opposed circulation of a letter that belittled the qualifications of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency. Some Republican supporters of Rockefeller had signed the letter.

Nixon, in San Francisco to open the baseball season told a newsman he was not disturbed by the letter and, in fact, thought it might add spice to the campaign.

Adlai Stevenson continued to draw support for the Democratic nomination despite his repeated statements that he is not a candidate.

The question of a possible gang-up on Kennedy in West Virginia was raised by former Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. (D-N.Y.), a Kennedy supporter.

In Wheeling, Roosevelt said Kennedy was "running against the combined 'opposition' of Humphrey, Stevenson, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.)."

Kennedy echoed this at a news conference on the Capitol esplanade in Charleston.

"Sen. Humphrey and I took the risk of defeat by entering," he said. "It seems to me that I'm entitled to run against one opponent."

Some support for the Kennedy campaign came from Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-W.Va.) in Washington. A supporter of Johnson, Byrd announced his backing of Humphrey in the primary.

Humphrey denied any gang-up. "Poor little Jack," he told a newsman. "That's a shame. And you can quote me on that."

"I wish he would grow up and stop acting like a boy. What does he want—all the votes?"

Sitdowns Are Revived in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Negroes staged sit-down demonstrations against lunch counter segregation in two downtown Little Rock variety stores today.

It was the third such incident here since a wave of sit-down protests flared across the South in recent weeks.

The incidents were orderly. Lunch counters in F. W. Woolworth's and McClellan's were closed immediately when the Negroes seated themselves. The Negroes left as quietly as they entered.

Acting Police Chief R. E. Glasscock said no arrests were made. The Negroes were gone from the stores before officers arrived.

A newsman said the lunch counter at Walgreen's Drug Store also was closed briefly when Negroes entered the building.

Store Manager Sam Ryker said later, "Nothing happened here."

The manager of the Woolworth store said "a few Negroes" entered shortly before noon and sat at the counter, which was closed before they could order. They left.

At McClellan's, which has both white and Negro counters, the manager said "10 or 11 Negroes" sat at the white counter. It, too, was closed before they could order. This group also left quietly.

After staging the two demonstrations the group of Negroes, some wearing badges protesting segregated stores, walked up and down Main Street for several minutes. Glasscock said police followed the Negroes but did not question or attempt to detain them. There was no report of further demonstrations.

Woolworth's was, etc., last graf LR39.

$26,000 Damage Suit to Trial

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Trial of a $26,000 damage suit against T. J. Rappold of Paulkner County resumed today in U. S. District Court.

The suit was filed by Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pitts of Hutchinson, Kan., as the outgrowth of a highway accident between Conway and Little Rock on April 2, 1957.

Mrs. Pitts said she suffered neck and back injuries when Rappold's pickup truck hit the rear of an automobile in which she and her husband were traveling. She said the collision occurred on Highway 65 after a road worker halted the car.

Judge Gordon E. Young presided. Defense testimony was expected to be finished today.

Tate is wondering what to do with the machine after the fair. It is valued at "around $20,000."

May Try for West Trip the Next Time

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy who hitchhiked free plane and train rides for a 1,200-mile joy ride halfway across the country says next time he'll try for a through flight to the West Coast.

Dean Sterling of Sea Cliff, N.Y., was found by police in a hotel Monday shortly after he had arrived from Chicago on a New York Central train.

His grandmother, Mrs. Robert L. Sterling, of Sea Cliff, said: "I'll see that he gets home but we're going to let the proper authorities escort him here."

The youngster prepared for the trip with two hearty breakfasts Sunday morning at the home of his grandparents, with whom he lives. His parents are separated.

Then, impeccable in a charcoal-gray suit and horn-rimmed glasses, he set out for New York's Idlewild Airport, carrying $25 he had saved.

He told United Airlines officials he had lost his ticket and they had "better take me because my aunt was waiting for me" at O'Hare Airport.

In Chicago, he slipped away from airline officials while they were checking a fictitious address he had given them. He took a taxi downtown and boarded a New York Central train.

"I lost my ticket," he said. "They're waiting for me in Buffalo."

A flamboyant gesture in Central Terminal here was Dean's undoing.

50 Forest Fires Are Still Burning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Forest rangers and volunteers battled through the night to get a serious outbreak of forest fires under control in north Arkansas today. Foresters Fred Laing said at Little Rock that only three major fires still burned today. One of those—in the Harrison area—was considered under control.

"I'd say we're on top of the situation right now," Laing said. "The wind is up to about 12 miles per hour, but the humidity is high and, with any luck, we should see through today all right."

The Harrison area fire burned more than 200 acres. Other major fires were on 2,000 acres in the Teber Springs area and on 1,200 acres in the Mountain View area.

The Forestry Department extinguished 82 fires which blackened more than 11,866 acres yesterday. Laing said 10,000 acres were destroyed in north Arkansas where one fire for a time menaced the community of Evening Shade.

Laing said the International Paper Co. sent two of its fire-fighting forest planes into the Mountain View area and they were working all night, "we got it under control."

Still needed to help the department cope with the fire situation is a heavy general rain. "But I just talked with the Weather Bureau," Laing said, "and they've backed off from a forecast of rain today."

More than 600 fires have destroyed 90,000 acres of Arkansas timber land and grassland since the current outbreak of fires began April 1.

Students dismissed from high school joined volunteers, firemen and civil defense workers in battling the flames which edged toward Evening Shade, 25 miles north of Batesville.

One barn was burned, but flames were kept from seven other buildings threatened by the fire near the Sharpe County Agent. Civil defense units and fire trucks from Batesville joined the fight.

The fire, which covered an area four miles long and a mile wide, reportedly started when a falling tree broke a power line and sparks ignited grass.

Dr. Williams Gets Okay of Church

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP) — Dr. H. E. Williams has the approval of the board of Southern Baptist College if he decides to run for governor of Arkansas.

Williams, the college president, had intended to reveal his plans today. But he said he would "take a few days to weigh the matter fully before making a final decision."

He made that statement yesterday after announcing that the college board agreed unanimously it did not object to his candidacy.

Williams said the action did not mean the board was backing him as a candidate, but merely that he could run without affecting his college post.

The educator has been considering the race for several weeks. Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett are the only candidates so far.

Urges $100,000 for Ozark Dam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has been urged to appropriate $100,000 for an early start on Ozark Dam on the Arkansas River below Fort Smith, Ark.

Clyde Ellis, head of the National Assn. of Rural Electric Cooperatives, told a Senate Public Works Appropriation Subcommittee yesterday he favored pushing the Ozark Dam because, "We are having some difficulty in projecting sufficient power in the area for bargaining purposes with private utilities in the six southwestern states—Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Louisiana and Texas."

The $100,000 would be used to start planning on the dam, which would be used for navigation purposes and power generation later.

Support for Bases

MANILA (AP) — President Carlos P. Garcia's bid for U.S. missile bases in the Philippines drew strong bipartisan support in Congress today. Garcia said he would like to see the most modern American weapons stationed in his country, including atomic weapons and missiles.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

Family of Stansiu Can't See Suicide

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Death ended the story of William (Billy) the Kid Stansiu, latest boyfriend in the tempestuous life of Beverly Aadland, the day he became 21.

Miss Aadland, the late Evelyn Flynn's last flame, herself narrowly escaped death when the muscular would-be actor fired a (fifth) bullet into his head, she said.

She told police Stansiu forced his way into her apartment Saturday, raped her at gunpoint, threatened to kill her, then sobbed, "I love you so much. I can't kill you"—and shot himself. He died Sunday in a hospital prison ward.

Stansiu had been hooked on a suspicion of rape. Police listed his death as suicide and said they had no immediate plans for an inquest. An autopsy is pending.

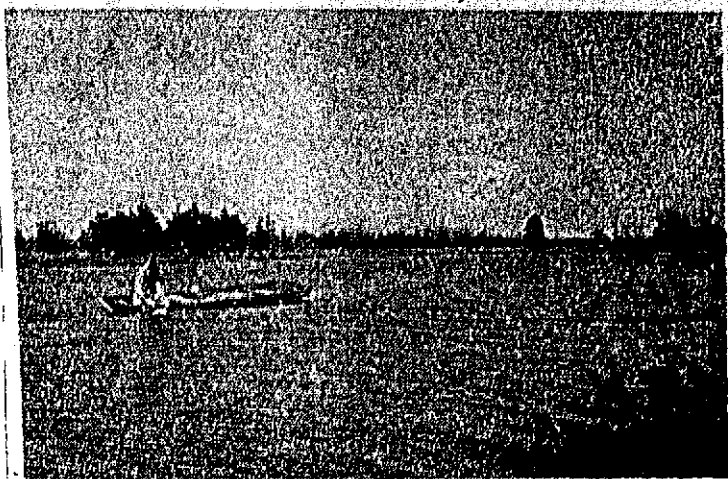

Beverly said he asked her to marry him and she refused. "He told me that I had ruined his life—that he loved me, but I didn't love him, and he was going to kill me," she said.

"That's a pack of lies," asserted Stansiu's brother, Kenneth, 22, an aspiring actor. "Beverly asked Billy to marry her a few weeks ago."

He asked: "Why would Billy want to rape her? He and Beverly have been going together every night for six weeks. Everybody in town knows that."

He said he was certain his brother wouldn't kill himself—"he wasn't that kind of guy. He had

Corn Belt Hatchery Lake

Doyle Jones applying 8-8-8 fertilizer to the 7½ acre lake of Corn Belt Hatchery farm near Rocky Mount.

Plant nutrients are added to water for the same reason they are added to pasture: to increase plant growth. The major difference in water and land fertilization is in the types of plants that are desired.

Pasture plants are familiar to everyone in agriculture. Less familiar are the microscopic plants that are the object of water fertilization. These plants are small; individually invisible to the unaided eye. However, in fertile water so many are present that they give the water the appearance of having the same color as their bodies. This color is usually a brownish-green.

For practical purposes, water with enough microscopic plants to restrict visibility to within 8 inches has enough fertility. This can be checked easily by immersing a light colored object (such as a dime) in the water and observing the depth at which it disappears.

Most waters in this area should be fertilized with 8-8-8 fertilizer. Apply about 200 lbs. per acre and check your plant growth in about two weeks. Water should be checked about every two weeks throughout the growing season.

Water insects and small fish eat these microscopic plants and fish eat the insects and smaller fish.

Ponds should be fertilized now if the spillway is not flowing. Of course, if there is a lot of water going through the spillway your fertilizer will be lost. The fertilizer need not be evenly spread over the water as does on land because the wind blowing ways will spread the fertilizer. If you need further information on fertilization of fish ponds call or contact George F. Brown of the Soil Conservation Service.

tree. She came in her good ancient car, driven by the gardener, who unloaded her, wished her Merry Christmas.

"Who aren't you staying over New Year's?" Rose demanded. Aunt Gwen said she had an engagement. She looked around at the entry hall and commented, "Very nice," which was like awarding an Oscar.

Gwen was tall and solid; she had wild white hair, cut very short and almost unfaded blue eyes. She sat and walked erect. She wore a hearing aid, which she often turned off, and had developed, rather than the highpitched voice of the somewhat deaf, a pleasant baritone. Debbie and Tim came downstairs, and she embraced them briefly, looking them over. "You're too thin," she told Debbie.

"I've gained three pounds, Aunt Gwen."

"You could use 10 more. If I were your mother, I'd make you eat; when your mother was young, I didn't let her wear lip-stick."

She herself wore it like a red flag.

Tim said, "Where's your bag?" He lifted her off her feet and hugged her.

"You put me down," said his grandaunt. "You're skinny, too, and I don't expect it's from studying."

"Basketball," said Tim.

Both children were fond of her. Debbie's criticism notwithstanding. She was good for them all, like a brack sea wind.

For years, Gwen had been the center of the Christmas Eve party; she knew the Holmeses' friends; they found her amusing and respected her, and, anyway, she was migrant.

Christmas morning, no one slept late. At intervals, they went downstairs to pluck their stockings, hanging like strange fruit from a stranger tree, at the mantelpiece. Each then crept back upstairs to gloat.

Gwen's stocking was brought to her, a concession to the years she would not admit unless it suited her purpose.

Rose and Mark had, together, retrieved their stockings and now sat, side by side, in bed, commenting on the contents.

As for the stockings, they knew what would be in them: practical gadgets, compact lipstick, purse-comb and brush. "Is that Santa's idea of military brushes?" Rose asked. Foolish animals of felt, china, porcelain, wood.

Mark had his usual plethora of shaving lotions, ball-point pens, a pocketknife, a ruler, manicure implements.

Christmas dinner would be early. Imogene was off, but had prepared most of it during the preceding day. Rose put the turkey in the oven and the family assembled to look at their gifts. "Should have brought Bluff home yesterday," said Tim morosely.

"Don't begrudge him his first and only Christmas Eve with his mama and the siblings," Rose said.

A good Christmas; all the Christmases were good. Rose, looking at the tree as if she'd never seen it before, thought of the first one with Mark; the walk-up flat and very little money. Nothing had been taken away from Christmas, each year something was added; and not merely new ornaments or a healthy bank balance.

Before Gwen left, it had been arranged that she would come and stay during the projected cruise. Though she made a show of hesitating, she finally gave in with apparent reluctance—but her eyes shone.

Judgments Upheld by State Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Judgments awarded in Scott Circuit Court as a result of a traffic collision on July 25, 1958 were upheld by the Arkansas Supreme Court today.

Both sides had appealed. Jack Roseberry of Texarkana was awarded $7,500 for injuries suffered when the tractor-truck in which he was riding collided with a lighter truck driven by 14-year-old Clifton Brown of Waldron. A $3,142 judgment was awarded to Bob Kanton of Texarkana, owner of the tractor-truck, for property damage. Both judgments were against Brown.

The jury, holding that both drivers had been negligent, also awarded Dewey McEntire, grandfather of Brown and owner of the light truck, $500 for property damage against Clyde Eugene Welch Jr. of Texarkana, who was driving the heavier vehicle.

Many Ways to Improve Farm

One method of stopping a gully on a steep slope is pictured above. This ditch on Crit Stuart Jr. farm north of Hope, was seven to eight feet deep and getting deeper and causing further up the steep slope. The Soil Conservation Service assisted Mr. Stuart in constructing a levee across the ditch with a trinkle tube through the levee. When the ditch gets full of water the excess water is let down the trinkle tube. When the water moves down the hill and drops over the fall it drops into water instead of the bottom of the gully. The silt in the water is deposited at the edge of the water.

The gully above the water has filled in at least two feet since last fall when the pipe drop was constructed.

This serves two purposes. It furnishes water for stock plus is stopping a bad gully. Monroe Samuel of DeAnn also constructed one similar to this.

30 Students Injured in Bus Wreck

SPOTSWOOD, N.J. (AP)—Nearly 30 school children were injured slightly today when two school buses collided.

The buses were on their way to an elementary school in Monroe Township. One had stopped to pick up some children and was just starting up when it was struck in the rear by the slow-moving second bus.

Twenty-five of the children, ranging from 6 to 11 years old, suffered bruises. The rest had minor cuts.

Neither driver was injured but Jessie Ashburner, an expectant mother who was driving the second bus, was taken to her home by ambulance as a precaution after she helped the children alight.

A third school bus in line was driven by township Police Chief Stanley Lehart. He estimated Mrs. Ashburner was doing about 3 m.p.h. at the time of the crash.

He said Mrs. Ashburner told him she had looked into her rear view mirror, saw a child standing in the aisle of her bus and ordered the child to sit down. The crash occurred during that momentary distraction, she said.

About 75 children were on the two buses involved in the accident.

Says Boycott Is Successful

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The president of the local chapter of the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People said today a Negro boycott of two chain stores which operate segregated lunch counters is 95 to 98 per cent successful.

Dr. D. E. Parker, the man who called the boycott March 24, said association members had taken counts at the doors of the two boycotted stores, F. W. Woolworth and J. J. Newberry, and a third store, the last two Saturdays.

He said that of 4,662 Negroes who entered chain variety stores last Saturday, only 156 patronized the boycotted stores. The rest entered the S. H. Kress store which is not being boycotted and does not operate a lunch counter.

Dr. Parker said the boycott will

Seaway Proving Economic Value

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today sent Congress a report saying the St. Lawrence Seaway proved its economic value to the United States and Canada during 1959, its first year of operation.

The report, prepared for the President by the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., said success of the waterway from a financial standpoint now seems reasonably assured.

In an accompanying letter to Eisenhower, the corporation's administrator, Lewis G. Castle, said construction of the U.S. portion of the seaway was 94 per cent completed by the end of last year. Castle estimated that the total cost of the U.S. portion, including interest during construction, will be about 131 million dollars.

The seaway was opened to deep-draft vessels April 25, 1959.

As of last Dec. 31, Castle reported, the U.S. portion of seaway revenue from all sources amounted to $3,204,500.
